ge on the Force Bill Prepared

THE FRIENDS OF THE MEASURE HAVE A MAJORITY IN THE SENATE.

The Senate Passes the Postal Subsidy Bill -Closing Scenes of the Present Session-New Senators and Represents tives Watching the Proceedings-News From the National Capital.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2.—The correspondent of a New York morning paper, elegrahed the following to his paper last

A sensational story is current in the obbies of the hotels to night to the effect that President Harrison has written and sent to the Government Printing Department a message in favor of the passage of the force bill, which will be sent to the Senate to-morrow. The story is that he wishes the bill to be passed at once and is going to take advantage of the death of Senators Wilson of Maryland and Hearst of California. The death of these men gives the advocates of the force bill a slender majority which would enable them to succeed. Should this be done it would mean an extra session, but the Republicans are willing to take the consequences if they are able thus to place the force bill on the statute books. sational story is current in the lobbles of SENASOR-ELECT PEFFER. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2.—Senator-elect Peffer of Kansas arrived last night and received a number of visitors at the Nationa Hotel to-day. To-day he is at the Capitol an making the acquaintance of members of the Senate. He is to address the local Farmers' Alliance next Tuesday evening. BILLS PASSED BY CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2.—Over seventy bills were passed by Congress Saturday, and the record of the Fifty-first Congress will exceed that of any other in the history of the country. One hundred and ten bills, with the through both Houses, being privileged mat-ter and having the right of way, as it were.

THE CLOSING CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2.—Both houses of Congress met early this morning prepared to hold continuous sessions, if necossary, until 12 o'clock noon on Wednesday, March 4, when the Fifty-first Congress will expire by law. There are evidences that the closing scenes will be interesting to statesmen and spectators alike. There are many important measures on the calendars, upon which action will be sought prior to the closing hour of the session, but it is very doubtful if anything more than the appropriation bills and copyright and postal subsidy bills will get through. Many persons reached Washington yesterday and to-day to witness the closing of Congress. Among the noted arrivals might be mentioned Hon, Leslie W. Russell, the member-elect from the Twenty-second New York District, who is being shown the sights by his predecessor, Hon. Fred Lansing. Mr. Russell bears the proud distinction of having worsted the late Roscoe Conkling in a $200,000 suit which was tried in the United States District Court in Rochester several years ago. Another noted arrival is Hon. Sherman Hoar, the young Democratic member-elect from Massachusetts, who succeeds the venerable N. P. Banks. Farmers' Alliance Member-elect Lydenthal B. Alexander of Charlotte, N. C., is here to get an insight into the workings of Congress before his term of office begins. One of the most conspicuous persons in the Senate chamber to-day is Senator-elect Peffer of Kansas, who defeated Senator Ingalls. Mr. Peffer is here to see something of Washington and of the way the business of the Government is conducted. He will be here till June and in that time expects to familiarize himself with the work of the departments in order that he may serve his constituents in the best possible way. He is evidently deeply impressed with the importance of his position and with the responsibility of it. After leaving here he will go to THE CLOSING CONGRESS.

A conference will be held at Cincinnati on May 19 to consider what steps, if any, shall be taken in organizing for the next presidential election.

"At this conference," says Mr. Peffer, "all the different farmers' organizations of the country, except perhaps the Patrons of Husbandry, and all the labor organizations, including the Enights of Labor, are expected to be represented. The object is to unite all the working forces of the country. Another meeting will probably be held later, and then a determined effort will be made to organize the whole country. Lecturers are now out. Meetings will be held in every State between now and next fall to organize the farmers and laborers, particularly the farmers."

Senator Peffer says he will act with neither of the old parties except as they favor things in accord with his sense of duty and, that he will never follow party for party's sake.

Among the prominent arrivals is Hon. Geo. Z. Erwin, the New York State Senator and the close friend and adviser of Hon. Thomas C. Platt. Mr. Erwin thinks that Goy. Hill will be in no hurry to take his seat in the United States Senate. He thinks also that Mr. Hill will be the Democratic nominee for President in 1892.

THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2.—The Senate met at half past 9. The general deficiency bill was reported and Mr. Hale gave notice that he would ask for its consideration today. The agricultural appropriation bill was also reported with a like notice.

The credentials of James Henderson Kyle, as Senator from South Dakota, beginning March 4 (replacing Mr. Moody), were presented and placed on file.

Mr. Frye called up the House amendment to the tonnage subsley bill and moved to non-THE SENATE.

Mr. Frye called up the House amendment to the tonnage subslay bill and moved to non-concur in the amendment and that the conferees asked by the House be granted.

Mr. Reagan expressed the wish that the House amendment be concurred in rather than the danger of a more objectionable bill from the Conference Committee be incurred. The subsidizing of ships, he held, was not going to increase commerce. The only way to increase either imports or exports was to remove the shackles of the tariff. ports was to remove the shackles of the tariff.

ports was to remove the shackles of the tarif. The bill was simply and merely a gift to the shipowners of the country. Mr. Morrill moved to concur in the House amendment. Mr. Vest expressed himself as opposed to all manner of subsidies and stated his objections to them. The subsidy did not apply merely to vessels to be built hereafter. The Red Star Line, with four waverlean built ships running from Philadel. hereafter. The Red Star Line, with four American built ships, running from Philadelphia, would receive a large subsidy without expending a single dollar, even for repairs, and the Pacific Mail Co. would receive $600,000 a year without any further expenditure. these companies were already making coney without any aid from the Treasury But, at the risk of appearing inconsistent, he was willing (if it would terminate the matter and prevent bringing worse) to agree to the House amendment, Mr. Cameron stated that as to the Red Star Line it had been doing business at a loss.

The question being on Mr. Morrill's motio to concur, Messrs. Cockrell Harris and Rea gan stated their intention to vote against it, and Mr. Vest stated his intention to vote for it, because otherwise it vote for it, because otherwise was certain that the conference report wou was certain that the conference report would make a worse bill. After voting down half a dozen amendments offered by Messrs. Vest, McPherson and Morgan (for free ships, reduction of subsidy, etc.), the vote was taken on Mr. Morrill's motion to concur in the House amendment for postal subsidies. It

The committee also attached to the bill Mr. Plumb's amendment providing for the transfer without examination to the clasforce of the census office. Other changes made by the committee are as follows: Postoffice at Richmond, Ky., $75,000; Customhouse at Cairo, Ill., $15,000; civilization and support of the Sioux, $150,000; widow of the late Chief Justice Waite, and Justice Miller $10,500 and $10,000 respectively. The committee attached a provision directing the Secretary of the Treasury to examine and pay the claims that have been al amine and pay the claims that have been already reported to Congress for services performed for the Government by the several Pacific railroads and increased from 50 to 60 per cent of the rates paid by private parties the amount to be paid to the aided Pacific railroads for services performed for transporting troops and supplies.

THE POSTAL SUBSIDT BILL.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2.—The postal subsidy bill passed by the Senate to day and which now goes to the President, authorizes the Postmaster-General to contract with the owners of American built vessels, officered by American citizens, for carrying the mails, the contracts to be equitably distributed between the Atlantic, Pacific and Guif of Mexico. An appropriation of $1,250,000 is made for the payment of subsidies to vessels with which contracts are made.

The bill now goes to the President.

Mr. Gray was appointed an additional member of the select committee on commercial relations with Canada.

Mr. Sherman offered a resolution electing Senator Manderson of Nebraska as President pro tempore to hold office during the pleasure of the Senate and Mr. Gorman offered a resolution tendering the thanks of the Senate to Mr. Ingalis for "the eminently courteous, dignified, able and absolutely impartial manner in which he has presided over its deliberations and performed the duties of President pro tempore."

Both resolutions were agreed to and the oath of office was administered by the Vice-President to Mr. Manderson, who was escorted to the desk by Mr. Ingalis.

The credentials of John B. Gordon, as Senator from Georgia (replacing Mr. Brown) were presented and placed on file.

The House amendment to the bill for a public building at Saginaw, Mich., reducing the amount from $20,000 to $200,000 was concurred in.

House bill relating to the treaty of recip-rocity with the Hawaiian Islands was passed. Also House joint resolution appropriating si,000,600 for the improvement of the Mississippi River, to be immediately available.

Mr. Pugh was appointed on the committee to attend Senator Hearst's funeral in place of Mr. Dawes, excused.

The Post-office appropriation bill was then taken up and Mr. Frye, in place of the amendment which he had offered on Saturduy night, offered one appropriating $1,400,000 for transportation of foreign mails.

Mr. McPherson spoke of the amendment as the subsidizing of a "lot of old hulks capable of floating—most of them wooden ships."

Mr. Frye contradicted that assertion.

Mr. McPherson inquired how many of the Pacific Mail ships were wooden vessels.

THE TARIPP LAWS. Washington, D. C., March 2.—Four mo-tions were made in the United States Supreme Court to advance cases intended to test the validity and constitutionality of the customs administrative and the McKinley tariff laws. The first of these motions comes here on an appeal from the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, sustaining a decision of the Board of General Appraisers in assessing duties on an importation of laces by Boyd, Sutton & Co. Counsel for the importers contend that the McKinley tariff act is unconstitutional; first, because the bill signed by the President was not the bill that passed both houses of Congress, a section having been omitted in its engrossment; second, that it contains pro-visions for bountles to sugar producers in this country which, under the Constitution, Concountry which, under the Constitution, Congress had no power to enact, and, third, that sec. 3 of the act assumes to delegate to the President the power to impose taxes upon imports, which power is vested exclusively in Congress and cannot be delegated. The motions to advance are based principally upon the very great importance of the questions involved and the interest of trade and commerce and of the Government in having the question speedily settled.

Attorney-General Miller stated that the Attorney-General Miller stated that the Government was willing to have the cases advanced, but it had desired to have the cases made up so as to fairly present the issues involved, which one of the cases at least did not do in his opinion. At his suggestion the matter went over for a week in order that the Government might expenses the cases.

WASHINGTON, D. The case involved the ownership of many thousand acres of land, odd numbered sections along the line of the Northern Pacific Railroad in Minnesota, and which under the decision to-day remain with the Northern Pacific Railroad.

Sensational Reports From Berlin.

The Exchange Telegraph Co.'s Berlin correspondent telegraphs that he has information, derived from the highest sources, to the effect that a feeling of general uneasiness prevails in regard to Emperor William's utterances. The same correspondent adds that Chancellor von Caprivi has signified to the Emperor his intention to resign immediately upon the termination of the autumn maneuvers. The Chancellor, it is understood, does not approve of the imperial ideas and plans connected with recent events. It is feared that the Emperor will determine upon a total reversal of his friendly attitude towards France.

Mr. Depew in fact is a conspicuous type of that curious class, developed in America along with large fortunes, who dislike to have the great size of their salaries made known. There are others in New York who earn $50,000 a year. Insurance men like R. A. McCurdy, President of the Mutual Insurance Co., and H. B. The effect of this bill can be appreciated when it is remembered that in adjoining States a notice of only ten days is required. That is what I would have done every time, if only for the joke of it, and to guli the impertinent people. What blasted business was it of theirs whether you were Kipling or I was Bruce? How intensely American the whole thing was! If the man has the fortune to amuse the public, must they therefore be allowed to paw him all over? Yes, I should have sworn, in your place that I was Kipling, and I would always have backed you up, too, from London. I would have sworn that you were the only Kipling—serves them right. But how did the thing ever originate?"

I told Mr. Kipling that, as far as I could trace it, the thing originated in a lie, pure and simple, of a Boston Sunday paper, written to fill up space. At this Mr. Kipling's face assumed an expression hardly to be described, as I told him some performances of the natives. It was quissical or more than that, but yet kindly—

"How characteristic!" he declared; "how intensely American!"

MARRIED EIGHTY YEARS.

Iwo Century-Old True Lovers Who Live There is living at Lac Qui Parle, in Yellow Bank Township, says the San Francisco Exworld. Daniel Salisbury was born 108 years ago, the year the Colonial Government first drafted a plan of government for the terriory of the United States northwest of the Ohio. Recently he celebrated his birthday, and in all these years his friends and relatives have largely increased and multiplied, in spite of the scythe of Father Time, which has mown down all his earlier associates, the celebration was largely attended and was an occasion of great joility.

Father Sailsbury, who still retains his faculties and even his keen love for a joke, was assisted in receiving the guests by the lady who has been the partner of his joys and sorrows for the past four-score years, come next January. He was a big, gawky youth of 28 when he jed her to the altar, and she was a blooming woman of 30. When the cracked village bell rang for the ceremony that morning the population of the United States was only 7, 289,881.

population of the United States was only 1,283,881.
Until three years ago the venerable couple, both of whom are in the best of health and spirits, lived alone in a comfortable log house on the Yellow Bank River, Lac Qui Parle County, when they were induced to live with their nearest relatives at this point. Next week, Mrs. Salisbury will have a birthday celebration. She has lost the timidity of her sex as to the roll of ages, and states with pride that on Wednesday she will be 110 years old.

For their age, they are both wonderful in their energy and vitality. A year ago, on his 1024 birthday, Father Salisbury saw a hawk attack a hen. He got his old fintlock musket and shot the hawk as it was flying away with its prey, saving the hen and killing the hawk. On his 100th birthday he walked seven miles to Billingham and back home the same day.

John Jacob Astor's Tip to the Porter on His Bridal Trip.

The following is such a remarkable story in the light of circumstance, and considering the occasion and the actors, that it is to be credited only on the authority of a gentle who traveled on the parlor car which ca credited only on the authority of a gentleman who traveled on the parior car which carried John Jacob Astor and his bride from Philadelphia to Baltimore. This gentleman's story is as follows: "I engaged a chair in the parior car on the Baltimore & Ohio road from Philadelphia to Baltimore. I was surprised when I boarded the car to see that John Jacob Astor and his bride were to be my fellow-passengers. I had supposed that they would travel in a special train at least, as I understand there were $50,000 worth of flowers at the wedding. In order to assure myself that my eyes had not deceived me I asked the conductor who the gentleman and lady in the drawing-room were. "That's John Jacob Astor and his bride," was the reply. 'You can go in there if you like; Mr. Astor didn't buy the whole drawing-room; he simply purchased two chairs in it, and when I asked him if he wanted it all, he said, 'No.' Just then I saw the porter bring Mr. Astor a pint of Appolinaris and a modest lunch, which consisted principally of soun and bread and butter. As tha waiter came out of the drawing-room with his fee in his hand he seemed greatly cast down. He evidently thought that on such a day from such a man a dollar gold plece at the least would be but a trifle. He complained bitterly that the bridegroom had given him a quarter for a tip and requested is cents back in change."

Queen Margherita's Glasse

Queen Margherita's Glasses.
From the New York Sun.
Contrary to all royal traditions the King of Italy, in spite of the lapse of years since he plighted his troth with the fair Queen Margherita, is still much in love with his handsome wife and a great admirer of her beauty. But Father Time is a mighty despot, and deals no less gently with his high-born children than with those of common clay. Consequently Queen Margherita finds her eyes less to be depended upon than in the days when her wedding ring was new, and like the ordinary woman she has put on glasses, greatly to the King's dismay. Whenever he sees her with them he commands her to put them away. Then as the wife, after the manner of wives, refuses to obey, her husband announces: "Margherita, if you don't put down those glasses I shall sing." As the King is devoid of any musical talent, and the Queen has a quick and delicate ear the threat proves quite powerful, and the glasses are put out of sight.

The State was not represented during the motion, and not half of the audience realized what was happening. The whole affair passed off so quietly that they did not realize that this was one of the closing scenes in a great murder trial which has excited the THE FILING PRESENTED.

Because upon the trial of the defendant the evidence offered against him did not sustain the charge in the indictment contained, and the first who heard the evidence were all convinced of defendant's innocence with the exception of one juror, who had formed and expressed an opinion prejudicial to the defendant before he was sworn to try the case, as defendant has learned since the trial of said case.

THE AMOUNT OF BAIL. Mr. McDonald says that he regards $1,000 as sufficiently large. He said:

"There is no proof against Vall, especially that he ever committed a murder, and it is my understanding that Gov. Johnson says that he will never prosecute again, which means that he realizes there is no earthly hope of a conviction, which is true. There is no reason for holding Vail any longer, but these human bloodhouds (farstranger companies), say now. bloodhounds (insurance companies) say nay, and I suppose that it must remain that way."

and I suppose that it must remain that way."
Mr. Orews talked in the same strain, saying that he regarded the further holding of Vail as an outrage, and something that should not be allowed under any circumstances.
"One thousand dollars," said he, "is plenty bail, and I think he will be a free man by this time to-morrow night. This is straight and you-can wager on it."

THE ROOM CROWDED.

The regular attendants upon the Vail trial were present in full force, together with a large number of people who were there on other business. The usual characters were present when court opened, anxious to see one more turn of the card of fortune in Vail's play for life and liberty. As time passed the crowdgrew more and more dense and the standing room was taken up to the railing, inside of which were the attorneys. The people were looking for some-thing important to occur, and many fingers were pointed in the direction of Marshal Mc-Donald, who reclined in a chair directly in front of the court. From the moment court opened he kept his eye on the judge, but the latter did not allow his orbs to wander in that direction. As soon as the prospective Grand-jurors were dismissed, and his honor seemed ready to hear whatever might seemed ready to hear whatever might come up, the audience began their usual buzz of excitement. They were constantly looking for the prisoner, and practical jokers seized the opportunity to point out innocent parties, who could not understand why they were gazed at so constantly. They were impatient throughout the routine proceedings which occupied mere than an hour. During the call of the petit jury for the term Mr. McDonald grew tired and went into the judge's private room to tell stories. His Honor had left the bench, stowing himself away out of sight.

THE INSURANCE NOT FORFEITED. Marshal McDonald, when spoken to regard-ing the published statement that the insur-ance on Mrs. Vail's life would now be forfeited, owing to the disagreement of the jury, said "There is no reason for such a statement," said Mr. McDonald, "and it is about as silly

MR. FORSHAW'S CHARGES.

Deputy Sheriffs Culkin and Tuckler, who had charge of the Vall jury, were asked what they knew of the complaints made by Mr. Forshaw, who charges that others on the jury cursed him, knocked his Bible out of his hands and called him a hypocrite while he was praying. Mr. Culkin said that he had received no complaints from Mr. Forshaw in regard to the treatment he was receiving in the jury-room. MR. FORSHAW'S CHARGES.

"As to the facts charged," said he, "I am not prepared to say and could not tell if I knew. But Forshaw never made any complaint in regard to treatment he may have been receiving. Of course there was more or less noise in the jury-room, but whether or not the swearing that may have been done was in relation to Forshaw's voting. I don't was in relation to Forshaw's voting I don't know. It is a question that must be settled between the jurymen themselves, and I will not mix myself up in it."

Deputy Tuckler would not talk of the case

Deputy Tuckier would not talk of the case any further than Mr. Culkin, which was not much. They would neither deny nor affirm that the actions of the eleven for acquittal were as bad as charged by Mr. Forshaw.

FORSHAW WAS BADLY TREATED.

JOSEPH Holle, one of the jurors in the Vall murder trial, claims, as do nearly all the others, that Juror Forshaw is a crank, and that nothing better could have been expected of him than a refusal to join the other jurors in a verdict of acquittal, but in an interview to-day he admitted that the charges of barbarism made by Mr. Forshaw against him and the others were substantially true.

"I admit," said he, "that we abused him considerably on the last night. Four of our number played ghost, and while I wasn't one of them, I was with them in spirit and endorsed everything they did, as did all the jurors. They dressed themselves up in sheets and told Foreshaw that his time had come. The order will not affect the St. Louis offices or anyone connected with them, or at least that is the opinion entertained there. "We are running the office now on an economical basis," said one of the gentlemen this morning, "and no reduction could be made except at the sacrifice of the efficiency of the department. As I understand the order it is to apply mostly to freight yards, section gangs and trainmen, and was occasioned by the falling off in grain shipments. The passenger falling off in grain shipments. The pas business at this season of the year is also light, or rather it has been all winter, except during the holidays, but it is now picking up again. I think that this reduction of the force is only emporary, and that the men will be taken or again as soon as the freight business gets better. Such reductions are not in-frequent in railroad management, and the custom of laying off men during dull periods is taken advantage of by all or nearly all railroads, and, for that matter, by all corporations and all people successful in business.

"I suppose that we have about one hundred men on this side of the river and a still larger force in East St. Louis, but I don't know much about the force on the other side, as they are under a different manageside, as they are under a different management. The general offices on this side of the river are those of the St. Louis, Keokuk & Northern Railroad, and are distinct; from the East St. Louis connections, although both are under one general system and belong to the C. We have a force of between thirty and forty men in our general offices here and then there are perhaps twice as many connected with the freight yards on this side, but I don't think any of them have been or will be discharged."

The bronze statue of William Penn, which is to crown the absurdly tall tower of Phila-beyond the edge of its support—an arrangement that can hardly be considered pleasing. In both height and weight the Penn statue very greatly exceeds the bronze figure of Liberty, which surmounts the dome of the national capital, and, in the grandiloquent language of a Philadelphia paper, "It is intended that the broad-rimmed Quaker hat which shields the head of the founder of the city shall be the first artificial object in this country to catch the rays of the morning sun." In other words, it is to be a little higher than the apex of the Washington monument in this city. Nevertheless it will be far less imposing.

Not long ago we had a very successful con-

This delegation, after boisterous demonstrations, withdrew, and the delegates to the judicial convention at Centralia were instructed for Hon. B. R. Burroughs for Circuit Judge. It is claimed by some that the other faction during the confusion appointed a chairman, passed resolutions and selected delegates and that two delegations will go to the convention.

"THE CHOUTEAU CLAIM."

St. Louis Firm Likely to Receive Nearly $175,000 From the Government.

Advices from Washington, D.C., this morn ng state that the "Chouteau claim" agains the United States Government for $174,445.75, the United States Government for $174,445.75, for extra pay for the building of the gunboat Atlah, during the war, was again on the way to the President after a former veto, with every prospect of being approved. Should it receive the President's signature, the St. Louis firm of Chouteau, Harrison & Valle will come into possession of a fortune out of which they have been kept for over a quarter of a century, and what was at one time a worthless claim will prove one of the most valuable assets of a wealthy corporation. The Washington information as to the claim being held at present by the Bank of Commerce of this city was erroneous. Cashier Van Blarcom, when seen by a Post-Disparch reporter, stated that the claim was still held by the company with which Mr. Harrison was associated. The clause pays the sum named to Chas. P. Chouteau without further question, and as now presented to the President is sandwiched in with other war claims. Senator Cookerell offered the Chouteau amendment when the war claims bill came up, and it was owing to his warm advocacy of it that other Senators favor it strongly. The bill now goes into conference, and there is no doubt that it will sgain be sent to the President for his signature. It has been before Congress for twenty years. The claim is for work done and material furnished by the firm of Chouteau, Harrison & Valle. for extra pay for the building of the gunbo

Jean Baptiste Roi, or King, one of his younger sons, and his youthful wife, with whom the old man spends his declining years, will this year celebrate their golden wedding. They have children almost 50 years of age, and have long been grandparents themselves, and now have great-grandchildren. So far as known, there are about 600 descendants of Charles King now living. Mr. King's oldest daughter, if living, would be 50 years of age. She was the mother of twelve children. A son, Charles, who lives in Canada, was 79 on the 1st of this month. Mitchell King, another son, who died in 1868, would be 77 if now living.

Charles, Jr., has fifteen children and Mitchell had twelve children. John, or Jean Baptiste, is the father of seven boys and ten girls, most of whom are now living. William, another son, has fourteen children. He lives in Vermont. A daughter, Jane, living in Kansas, has seventeen children by a first wife, and Pierre has fourteen also.

POMPEH OF ENGLAND. A Buried Brito-Roman Town Laid Bar After 1,000 Years.

From an Exchange.

A British Pompell has just been, discovered can says a London dispatch of the Dunlop cable company. It is a true city, not a mere camp, and when fully excavated will throw light upon the domestic life of our remote ancestors of more than one thousand years ago. The city now being laid bare is the Brito-Roman Silchester. The whole area has been free from all building operations ever since the Roman occupation of British; in fact the soil is virgin, having been pasture land for centuries. The excavation commit tee has already succeeded in revealing to insteenth century eyes life in a Britain city that had a long existence in a day of which history is almost slient. The task of excavation is a tremendous one, but the work is being prosecuted as funds come in.

An exhibition will be opened at the Burlington House, Piccadilly, within a few days which will present features of extraordinary interest. On the walls will be hung a huge plan of the burled city, marking whereabouts the streets, walls, gates, houses, baths, temples, forum and basilica stood. The excavations have brought to view the remains of an important bouse. ton, says a London dispatch of the Dunle

NEWSPAPER TRAINING. One Who Has Had Experience Says It Is

Very Beneficial. I believe I have done everything which an directing wrappers to writing the biography of a President, within an hour after leath, writes Edward Everett Hale in the Forum. This means, if the training be continued through many years of life, and if one be under a good chief, that one gains, of necessity, the ready use, at least, of his own language. We newspaper men may write English very ill, but we write it easily and quickly. So that to us, who have been in this business, there is something amazing to hear a clergyman say that he occupied a week in composing a sermon, which was, at the outside, thirty-five hundred words in length. One can understand absolute inability to do it at all; but no newspaper man understands how a man who can do it can spend thirty-six hours in doing it.

If you have to send "copy" upstairs hour after hour, with a boy taking the slips from you one by one as they are written and you know that you are never to see what you write until you read it next day in the paper, your copy will be punctuated carefully, written carefully and it will be easily read. That is one thing. Another thing goes with it. You will form the habit of determining what you mean to say before you say it, how far you want to go and where you want to stop. And this will bring you to a valuable habit of life—to-stand by what has been decided. Napoleon gave the same advice when he said: "If you set out to take Vienna, take Vienna.

For these reasons I am apt to recommend inued through many years of life, and if one

Two Young Men of Wealth.

George Gould is growing stout. His cheeks begin to hang down below the line of the jawbone, and the girth of his waistband is longer than the circumference of his chest. At a rough guess he must weigh at least thirty pounds more than his father, though he is himself very short in stature. For a time he was rather an eager student of athletics. At one time he was a constant attendant at the New York Athletic Club Gymnasium, where he gained some proficiency in dumb-bell, Indian club and horizontal bar work. He practiced running on a circular track and developed considerable endurance, though he did not attain any particular speed as a sprinter. He has given up his exercise entirely and the result is an accumulation of weight. His face is destitute of color. His mustache has grown so two hours before the great railroad adjuster puts in an appearance. Both of the millionaires, however, knock off at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt has developed a considerable amount of athletic agility quite late in life. Until he was 35 years of age he did not go in for athletics particularly. He was on the contrary, a very close student of Wall street affairs and given over to an absorbed study of the art of dinner-giving and the more sober forms of social entertainment. Five or six years ago, however, he went in extensively for yachting, and after his first season in London he became an enthusiastic horseman as well. Last summer he made a remarkable showing at Newport as a polo player, despite his weight, which is close to 165 pounds, and this year he has blossomed out as a leader of cotilions of no mean skilli, He is not the corpulent and autocratic figure which the caricaturists paint him, but is the picture of a compact, hard, muscular and perfectly trained athlete. He has the flush of health on his cheeks, and apparently he gets considerably in the street of the contract of

Why is a cat's tail like the earth? Because it is fur to the end These were put into two hats, the queries in one and the answers in the other. Each person present was requested to select one slip from each hat and not to show either until after the answers had all been given.

When everything was ready and the company seated the questions were read. As this was done every one who wished, excepting the person holding the answer, endeavored to give the correct reply. If all failed the answer was then read by the person holding it. If this person failed to discover that he held the answer he was taken to one end of the room and made to stand on a low stool until some other person could be found to take his place.

The successful guesser of the most conundrums was presented with a diploma tied with blue ribbon, fancifully and wittily prepared, entitling him to the degree of G. G. (Good Guesser.)

ONE of the disastrous effects of the force bill madness is found in the rushing through Congress of all sorts of bills during the closing hours. The opportunities for lobbyists are magnificent under these conditions.

Gov. HILL's refusal to honor the requisition of Gov. BULKELEY may not be justifiable upon technical grounds, but it served the excellent purpose of calling the country's attention to the disreputable attempt of the Republicans to steal the State Government of Connecticut.

THE National Council of Women might have avoided an appeal to snobbish reverence for foreign titles in urging the women of America to imitate the example of the Princess of Wales in refusing to use the plumage of singing birds for personal adornment. The Audubon Society, which was organized for the purpose of discouraging the slaughter of birds, contains in its list of members thousands of American women who furnish examples of the triumph of humane principles over the dictates of fashion.

PRESIDENT HARRISON as a candidate de clared that it was much easier to deal with a surplus than with a deficit in the Treasury. In two years his party has wiped out the surplus and soon the administration will begin to deal with that more trouble some thing, a Treasury deficiency. The latter, however, as Senator PLUMB told the Senate last week, "is the "only thing that can prevent these "raids to secure allowances of pubeeding at such a rate that "a receiver 'will have to be appointed for the United 'States within the next twenty-four 'months," unless stopped by a deficit.

THE SPECTACLE AT WASHINGTON.

The present Congress has not only suceeded in demolishing the surplus without reducing taxation, but is doing its best by lavish appropriations and bills calling for heavy future payments to render increased taxation unavoidable for years to come. That was the policy bargained for by the trusts and monopolies whose money made the Harrison campaign successful in 1888, and though its development has cost a hundred members of Congress their seats they are still going ahead on that line, as if desperately bent on making the most of a last opportunity.

In November the people of the United States by a majority of 900,000 votes condemned the policy of this Congres, and ordered a halt in the loudest voice ever heard in an election on this continent. But in Washington specials to Republican organs we read such admissions as these:

Nobody remembers the closing days of a Congress when bills of all kinds went through are going out of public life with the March naturally don't feel concerned about the future. Never was there so little watch-dog-of-the-Treasury business. It is a kind of a grand raid on the Treasury that S. J. RANDALL used to set his face like a flint against. There no RANDALL now.

This spectacle of a Congress legislating against the declared will of the people, rifling the Treasury with appropriations which a formal vote of the people has overwhelmingly condemned, and mortgaging the future resources of the country to all From the Indianapolis Sentinel.

In "counting a quorum" last Friday a national veto as was promulgated last November, can be duplicated in no other representative government under the sun. It shows that there is more defiance of the popular will, more reckless looting and more capacity for mischief in a threemonths' session of a Congress that has been repudiated overwhelmingly, than there was in the eighteen preceding months of its term. A Congress so repudiated ought not to have such power. It is at variance with the theory of our government.

BUSINESS OR BOODLE?

No matter what may be the action of local party organizations in preparation for the spring election the commanding issue of the campaign has been placed squarely before the voters of St. Louis by the nomination of an Independent municipal ticket for the City Council.

The issue involves both men and prin ciples, but especially principles. Its foundation element goes behind the mere selection of candidates to the mode and motive of their selection and the purpose which their election is to serve. The government of the city has been in control of political bosses operating through one or the other of the party organizations and conducted chiefly in the interest of the party leaders and the partisan machines. The offices have been regarded as the spoils of party workers distributed solely with a view of strengthening the party machines and furthering the personal ends of politicians. Election to municipal office has not depended upon the confidence and choice of the people, but upon the favor and wish of Ministry, is Ellis Ashmead Bartlett, Conservpended upon the confidence and choice of THE question to be decided at the ap- the machine bosses. So completely have the an elder politicians of both parties ruled the loca ness of the municipality be conducted for organizations that they have boldly delude the benefit of the people or of the politi- the voters with an open show of party contests, while secretly combining among themselves to divide the offices. The issue made by the Independent citizens' movement is whether this corrupting method of choosing municipal officials shall continue, whether the city govern ment shall be run for political and personal gain, or, on the other hand, whether officials shall be chosen on the basis of integrity and fitness for the places, and the gov ernment conducted upon business princi ples in the interest of the people. The Independent ticket presents a care ful selection of business and professiona men of integrity, equally divided in affiliation with the Democratic and Republican parties. The outcome of the contest will be a fair test of the sincerity of the popular protest against machine rule in local politics. It will decide in large measure whether business or boodle shall rule at the City Hall.

'I'm in favor of abolishing the Senate The Senators do not represent the people Alexander Hamilton was an aristocrat. H said the people could not be trusted. He wanted the power, however, to hold the people in check, and the Senate represents that power. Besides, a Senator's term is too long. The combined wisdom of the people is greater and safer than the wisdom of th select few. The Representatives being elected every two years, and, coming direct from the people, are better qualified to pass upor legislation that is wanted by the people than the Senators, who have no interest in com mon with the people. I regard the move ment inaugurated in Illinois to elect the Sen the beginning of what is to follow, and that is the abolishment of the United States Sen ate. You may not live to see it, but it will in those days had plenty of money. A barre of flour would buy a man $1,200 of currency and a yard of 10 cent calleo would buy $10. It was truly flush times, and it was a common saying that the man might carry his currency in his market basket and bring home his regetables in his pocket. There was truly a great abundance of money, but yet, even in the fullness of our sufficiency, we were in straits. Our abundant currency would bring almost nothing, for our money had no in-trinsic value, and in the outside world was of very little account.

THE WARRIOR HERO. The Beentiful Tribute to Gen S a Southern Minister.

New York, March 2 .- The Rev. Thomas Dixon, Jr., a Southerner, preached before a large congregation at Association Hall yesterday. His subject was "Sherman Through the Eyes of a New-Generation.' He said:

The nation mourns the loss of its last great warrior and pays to this man the tribute of genuine, heartfelt sorrow. Not for war's sake do we love him, but for the character which only the flery furnace of war reveals. The proudest monument of earth built to the memory of man commemorates the life of a warrior. Belonging to a later generation, it was not my privilege to know Gen. Sherman. I never saw him. I know him as I know Ceser, Hanibal, Napoleon, Grant, Sheridan, Lee and Jackson. I have always loved to look upon his pictures. He looks like the personified genius of war. That was a magnificent tribute paid him by the vast crowds that silently waited along the line of march. They knew that a friend of the people, had fallen in the battle of life. the Eyes of a New Generation." He said: line of march. They knew that a friend of the people, a man of the people, had fallen in the battle of life. They knew that he had opinions and convictions. He had the courage to live up to them and express them simply and fearlessly. He recognized his limitations and powers with simple honesty. He never sought to use his reputation as the lever of personal gain. The old South did not like him. He swept the South with the dash and fury of a cyclone of blood and flame. Those who were left smid the ghastly chimneys and desolated fields to bury the dead could not forget and forgive. Humanity and war are as utterly irreconcilable as heaven and hell. No man knows this better than Gen. Sherman. His methods were terrible, but in them were a grim and awful benevolence. It was the benevolence of a Johnstown flood, which swept 2,000 souls into eternity in a moment, but wept 2,000 souls into eternity in a moment, trengthened every dam in the world and saved swept 2,000 souls into eternity in a moment, but strengthened every dam in the world and saved more lives than it destroyed, besides opening the flood gates of human love, which poured millions of dollars into the stricken valley. Sherman did not love war. He saw through the glister and tinsel. He called it the ecience of barbarism. He used war as the surgeon uses the knife. The young South loves this reunited nation. In spite of the bitterness and the terrible memories handed down by tradition they admire Sherman. They rejoice in the genius that hatened the close of that fratricial strife. The younger generation in the South remembers that Sherman was a generous fee after the battle. He loved his enemy—what there was left of them. He extended his hand in generous fraternal greeting, He was a good clitzen; a tender, loyal, loving riot. He was a good clitzen; a tender, loyal, loving them. He extended his hand in generous fraterna greeting, He was not a sectionalist. He was a patriot. He was a good citizen; a tender, loyal, loving husband and father. He was frank, genial, breezy it his humanity and sublime in the execution of his duty. He was a manly man. His will was indomitable. He was one of the finest types of manhood the world has ever seen.

Learning this, the world will at last join in the universal hymn of peace.

POOL-ALLEY RACING. RUMORED ESTABLISHMENT OF A BOOK-

MAKERS' TRACK IN ST. LOUIS. The Stone Anti-Pool-Selling Bill Said to Be Responsible—Al Spink Denies the Story—New Half Mile Track at Brotherhood Park. Rumors have been current on the streets for several days past of a local movement under way by which a decided advantage was to be taken of the conditions imposed by the Stone anti-pool-selling bill recently passed by the State Legislature. Under the provisions of that bill the selling of pools on the racing of horses was forbidden. This, under existing circum stances, must practically be the death of all pool-rooms in St. Louis, as there is not enough racing in the whole State to justify a room keeping open more than a month in the year, and it looked as though a fatal blow had been struck the bookmakers. Whether the Stone bill will have that effect or not is now a matter of considerable doubt, and there are people who believe that the next there are people who believe that the next sixty days will see the development of one of the neatest self-protection schemes ever devised by the ingenuity of Pool alley. The scheme rumored to be under way is that of establishing permanent racing right here in into a race-course, as the location of the permanent track. It was said that complete and elaborate arrangements had been made for carrying out the novel project. The track at the Brotherhood Park was to be enlarged and improved, stables for the accommodation of horses entered for the races were to be built, good purses were to be offered, and the racing season was expected to last throughout the year. The problem of winter racing, it was stated, might probably be settled by inclosing and covering the entire park might probably be settled by inclosing and covering the entire park, and the stable accommodations were to be such that owners of trotting or running horses would find it perfectly feasible to winter and race their speeders in St. Louis. Associated with Messrs. Spink and Wand, it was said further, were several of the leading Pool alley bookmakers, and they were eading Pool alley bookmakers, and they wer leading Pool alley bookmakers, and they were to have the sole privilege of selling pools and making books on the races. The project was said to be under full headway, with plenty of money to back it, and it was stated that before the close of spring the permanent race course in St. Louis would be an established fact. It was described before as development of the strength of the s would be an established fact. It was described briefly as a development of the St. Louis Athletic Club and the St. Louis Driving Club, organized just about a year ago by the Brotherhood Park management, with the "motive power" of the development coming from pool sellers, who wanted something in the way of races upon which they could legally sell pools and make books.

IMPORTANT WORK BEING DONE.

Investigation of the story was made this morning by a Post-Disparton reporter. Circumstantial evidence, in support of such a morning by a Post-Disparch reporter. Cir-cumstantial evidence, in support of such a project being on foot, was found in the fact that the St. Louis Athletic Club is making vigorous preparations to establish local racing on a firm basis, but the main points of the story were emphatically denied by Mr. Al H. Spink, who has charge of the enterprise.

"I expected such a rumor to crop out," said
Mr. Spink, when seen by the Post-Disparch reporter, "as soon as the Stone bill was passed, but there is nothing in it. The fact is reporter, "as soon as the Stone bill was passed, but there is nothing in it. The fact is that our project was conceived long before the passage of the bill, or even before Stone was elected to the Legislature. It has grown out of the establishment of the one-fifth mile track at Brotherhood Park last summer. Before I go into a statement of what we propose doing, let me deny positively that Tom Wand has anything to do with the thing at all. He is not a stockholder of the St. Louis Athletic Club nor a member of the St. Louis Driving Club, nor in any way interesten in the work now being done, or in the results. "It is true that several St. Louis pool-sellers are stockholders in the Athletic Club, and it is true also that, as the races will be run just it is true also that, as the races will be run just it is true also that the enterprise will be benefited by the operation of the Stone bill, but that is simply a lucky circumstance following the conception of the project.

To encourage local treoting. "The enterprise owes its existence to the desire of the local owners of trotting horses to have some place where they could have regular trotting races and put up purses that would make it worth while to enter their stock. The races at Forest Park have always been handicapped by the fact that as there was no gateway, there could be no purses. This we will overcome by charging admission to the course, and putting up every cent taken in above expenses for good purses on each race. The present membership of the St. Louis Athletic Club will show you that the people interested in the project are the owners of local trotting stock, the are the owners of local trotting stock, the wealthy brewers who are also interested in trotting, and others who are willing to put up money to secure good local racing. Some of the stockholders are as follows: Joseph D. Lucas, Isaac R. Trask, Wm. J. Lemp, Louis Lemp, Chas. Winkelmeyer, Theodore Herold, R. C. Pate, Gus Busch, Henry Koehler, John Bogard, Tom Burke, Geo. Schroll, John A. Weindel, Conrad Besch, Geo. Fehl, Tom Parker, Henry Bischoff, A. Bollin and others. There has been no chang in the company since it was incorporated, and it is simply carrying out the original ideas for which it was established.

STABLES AND NEW TRACK BUILT.

'It is true that we are greatly enlarging the track and grounds and putting up stables, but the passage of the Stone bill is not responsible for this new development. Besides the park proper, we have secured leases on 950 feet of ground on Russell avenue, which gives up a front of 1850. sixty days will see the development of one of the neatest self-protection schemes ever devised by the ingenuity of Pool alley. The scheme rumored to be under way is that of establishing permanent racing right here in St. Louis.

RUMORED POOL ALLEY RACE-COURSE.

The story current on the streets named Al H. Spink, editor of the Sporting News, and Tom Wand, the livery stable proprietor, as being at the head of the permanent local racing project, and the old grounds of the Brotherhood Base Ball Park, now turned into a race-course, as the location by May 1, and will have trotting mating the proper of the story current on the streets named Al H. Spink, editor of the Sporting News, and You will offer purses that may cause outside trotting horses to be entered, but the principal object is to encourage local racing. We expect to have everything ready by May 1, and will have trotting mating the proper of the story of the sto racing. We expect to have everything ready by May 1, and will have trotting matinees every Saturday afternoon through the spring, summer and early fall. There will be no attempt at winter racing. The St. Louis Athletic Club will turn the grounds, when completed, over to the use of the St. Louis Driving Club. The whole thing is Louis Driving Cute. The whole thing is simply carrying out plans formed a year ago, and is not an offspring of the Stone anti-pool alley bill, nor an effort on the part of the pool sellers to establish an institution which will allow them to remain in business. It is legitimate in every way.' An attempt was made to see Mr. Tom Wand

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

DES MOINES, I.O., March 2.—The District Court of Green County has decided that the signing of a man's name to a railway mileage book by another party is not forgery. The case arose over the theft from a commercial traveler of a Chicago & Northwestern mileage book, which was sold to a Chicago scaiper who in turn sold it to the man who presented it. It was taken up by the conductor and fare collected. Suit was brought by the irate traveling man, and the road set up the plea of forgery which was overruled.

Fourteen Hundred Residents of the Arizona Town Rendered Homeless.

THE REPORTS OF GREAT LOSS OF LIFE ABSOLUTELY UNTRUE.

ad Tracks at Gila City Under Ten Feet of Water-People Fed by the Railroad Companies-Great Rise in the Salt and Gila Rivers-Other News in Regard to the Floods.

Yuma, Ariz., March 2.—The river has fallen to almost the level of the water before the last flood. News from the valleys says that everything is under water, and much destruction to property has resulted. The Gila River changed its course in several places. At Gila City the railroad track is covered for miles by water ten feet deep. The statement is made that the great loss of life here is untrue and absolutely incorrect. One man only, so far, is known to have been drowned. Reports of the death of others in the valley are reported, but not yet confirmed.

DISCREDITS THE REPORTS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 2.—Manager A.

N. Towne of the Southern Pacific discredits the reports of deaths by flood at Yuma and in that neighborhood. He said he had been in communication with that town up to last night. Seven hundred men will be put to airing the tracks to-day.

RIVERS RISING.
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 2.—A special from Maricopa, Ariz., says that the Salt River is rising fast. The Gila rose twenty-five feet in a few hours. The town is built nearly all of adobe and is in serious danger.

New ORLEANS, I.a., March 2.—The condi-tion of the river and levees from Memphis to New Orleans is a subject which is creating a great deal of anxiety just at present. Col. C. E. Wright of the Vicksburg Commercial says:

E. Wright of the Vicksburg Commercial says:
The high stage of water from Cairo to the gulf makes matters look very bad, and a slight rise in the Ohlo and the Arkansas would end in disaster. It is hoped that the Congressional appropriation now under consideration will be passed.
Others are of the same opinion. In the meantime every effort is being made to strengthen the levees at weak points.

DANGER AT GREENVILLE, MISS.
GREENVILLE, MISS., March 2.—The Mississippi here is rising steadily and may in two days be within a few feet of the maximum height. The strain on the new levees now is dangerous and it is feared that something will give way soon.

DISASTER FEARED. New York, March 2.—The Louisville, New Orleans & Texas Railway officials have been elegraphed from Baton Rouge, La., that the Mississippi is now only five feet below the flood mark of 1890 and that disaster is feared.

PULP MILL DESTROYED.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., March 2.—The largest pulp mill of the Remington Paper Co. was destroyed yesterday by floods. Just as the machinery stopped the floor commenced to rise and the building moved. In a moment half the structure had tumbled into the water. Lohn Murphy and employer was water. John Murphy, an employe, was caught by falling machinery and killed. All the rest escaped.

THE SITUATION AT YUMA. DENVER, Colo., March 2.—At Yuma, Ariz., over 250 houses are in ruins and 1,400 people homeless. The floods of the last few days have swept everything and it is feared that down the Gila Valley hundreds of lives were lost. All communication is cut off, wires are down and bridges on all sides washed away, so that it is very hard to get reliable reports The river is no longer a river; about the town it is seven miles and below it spreads in some places to the width of fifty miles. The rail-road blockade will not be raised for several days yet, but the food supply will last eight days more at least. The Southern Pacific those is feeding 1,000 people a day.

The report comes from Jakuno that the flood came up so suddenly that hundreds of people were driven into the tree tops, where many fainted from hunger and exhaustion and were drowned. All along the valley for nearly two hundred miles everything is deso , and many of the settlers have lost ev erything they possessed escept the clothes on their backs. The loss is estimated roughly at $2,000,000, of which the railroad will stand probably $250,000. Yuma will not be rebuilt, but will probably move up into the hills.
A DESTRUCTIVE TORNADO.

PETERSBURG, Va., March 2.—A tornado passed over a large portion of Mecklenburg County Saturday night, and was accompanied by a heavy fall of hall of unusual size. Orchards in many localities were completely ruined. Furlong was in Boonville, Mo., Saturday. and while in office of Sheriff Hornbuckle neard a discussion relative to the execution neard a discussion relative to the execution of John oscar Turlington, who is to hang at that place on next Friday. The Sheriff was in a fearful stew with regard to the rope, being in doubt as to his ability to make the fatal hangman's noose, Furlong suggested that he knew a man who could furnish the rope and was instructed to have the noose forwarded at once. Old Rob have the noose forwarded at once. Old Bob Humphreys, the veteran hangman of St. Louis, will ship the rope to-night. Humphreys is a rope-maker by trade and has prepared the rope for every legal execution held in St. Louis for almost two years. At everal hangings he has officiated in perso Turlington will be hanged for the murder of Sheriff Cramer of Cooper County. Almost a year ago he was incarcerated in the Boon-ville jail for shooting at a brakeman who caught him beating his way through the intry on a West-bound freight. Turling ton induced a half-witted boy to pass a re-volver into his cell and made a break for liberty. Cramer interfered and Turlington went out over his dead body. Ten days later he was caught and, on trial, was convicted of murder in the first degree. While his case was pending in the Supreme Court he again escaped. Organizations Want Commissi Meriwether Retained in Office.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 2.-The St. thousand pounds of gold were withdrawn to-day from the Bank of England for export to different St. Louis labor organizations ex ber of letters, resolutions and telegrams from pressing their displeasure with the Governor for his decision to remove Labor Comthe State on account of his work for the weekly payment and other labor measures, and the opinions of the labor organiza-tions seems to be that this influence was the cause of Meriwether's removal. Ryan Parker, Kerwin and others of the St. Louis Farker, Kerwin and others of the St. Louis delegation are of the opinion that the Governor has greatly imperiled his political chances by the action. "He may think that he can curry favor with the Alliance by appointing U. S. Hall's brother Labor Comnissioner," said a well-known politician but by removing Meriwether the Governor has forever lost the support of the organized aboring men of the State."

A PISTOL AT HIS HEAD.

A Barkeeper Gave Up His Cash, but Re covered it Later. A few minutes after 2 o'clock this morning couple of bold robbers held up James Caffer ata in his saloon and robbed him of $45. Cafferatta is the proprietor of the place at the southeast corner of Eleventh and Chestnut streets. He was just closing up when the men entered, but stepped behind the bar to take their orders. Suddenly one of the strangers pulled a pistol and presented it at the astonished saloon-keeper's head, with the low-toned admonition to "keep quiet if he wanted to avoid trouble." Cafferata kept quiet, and the accomplice rified the cash drawer, securing almost $50 in small change. With the revolver still pointed at Cafferata's head, the robbers then backed to a rear door and made their escape. The instant they were gone Cafferata seized his police whistle from the bar and blew it on the sidewalk. Officer Littlewas at Ninth and Pine streets and heard heard. the was at Ninth and Pine streets, and heard the alarm. Just as he had started in the direction from which the sound proceeded he saw two men running along in the shadow of the building on the opposite side of the street. The blue-coat drew his revolver and made both the pedestrians come that deed bett. A pistol was towned in the volver and made both the pedestrians come to a dead hait. A pistol was found in the pocket of the small man. This fact justified detention and Little took both men to Cafferata's place. The saloonkeeper instantly identified the strangers as the robbers of a few minutes before, insisting that he who gave his name as Geo. M. Evans had held the revolver to his head while his companion, Thomas J. Stockton, had rified the money drawer. A warrant for robbery in the first degree has been sworn out against the men.

A DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

Burning of Business Property at Indian apolis—Cairo's Big Fire.

apolis—Cairo's Big Fire.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 2.—This city was visited by a costly fire last evening. The blaze was first seen in Bryan & Sullivan's retail dry goods house, No. 8 West Washington street, and spread rapidly, owing to the limited water supply. The building and stock were destroyed. They estimate their loss at $60,000, while Edward Schurmann, the owner of the building, says it will require $40,000 to replace building, says it will require $40,000 to replace t. The Arcade clothing house, adjoining Bryan & Sullivan's, sustained heavy damage by fire and water, as did Wm. Haerle, who carries a big stock of fancy dry goods at No. 4 West Washington street. The insurance is distributed among a number of companies. It was almost impossible to ascertain the exact amount of insurance carried on the stock, but it will amount to between $60,000 and $70,000. Mr. McGilliard of the firm of McGilliard & Dark, said last night that the entire amount of insurance on the stock had been placed through their agency, $60,000 in all, representing thirty companies. Among them piaced through their agency, $60,000 in all, representing thirty companies. Among them are the Firemen's of Baltimore, $2,000; the Indianapolis Insurance Co., $1,500; the Vernon Insurance & Trust Co. of Indianapolis, $1,500; the German of Pittsburg, $2,000; the People's of Pittsburg, $2,000; the Northwestern National of Milwaukee, $2,000; the Concording of Milwaukee, $2,000; the Milwau $2,000; the Concordia of Milwaukee, $2,000 157,000; the Concordia of Milwaukee, $2,000; the West Chester of New York, $2,500; the Citizen's of St. Louis, $1,500; the United Firemen's of Philadelphia, $2,000; the Sun of California, $2,000; the German of Freeport, Ill., $2,500; the Facragut of New York, $2,500; the Farragut other companies, ranging in amounts from $1,500 to $2,500 each. The Robert Zene $1,500 to $2,500 each. The Robert Zener Agency had $20,000 on the stock, $10,000 being in the Royal of London and $10,000 in the seven other companies represented by the agency. The Chas. Sayles Agency had $10,000 on the stock, $5,000 being in the Home of New York and $5,000 in the Phœnix of Hartford. He also had $6,000 on the building in the Home of New York.

A FIREMAN HURT.

Dennis Fleming, a hoseman of company

The Story of the Sale of Mrs. Fitch's Dia-

New York, March 2 .- A story that appeared papers to the effect that Mrs. T. W. Fitch, the eldest daughter of Gen. Sherman, had offered to Tiffany a number of extremely valuable diamonds from the invaluable necklace pre-sented to her by the Khedlve of Egypt, to be sold for the benefit of her husband, Lieut. Fitch, who was said to be in financial troubles, is pronounced absolutely untrue at Tiffany's. These jeweis, it will be recalled, were so valuable that an enormous duty was placed upon them, which, however, was removed out of consideration to Gen. Sherman. The neckace was divided among Mrs. Fitch's sisters. Mr. Cook, the head of Tiffany's jewelry department, said yesterday that he remembered the necklace well, the parts having been reset at Tiffany's effort it was divided. been reset at Tiffany's after it was divided None of the jewels had ever been offered for sale there, he said, and if they were sold at all it would undoubtedly be at Tiffany's, for Mr. Tiffany and Gen. Sherman were fast friends. Mr. Cook pronounced the story a

It was claimed that the city authorities had refused to give the farmers a place where they could sell to the people direct without the intervention of middle men and some hard things were said against Senator McGinnis for having opposed and caused the defeat of a bill in the Senate which was simi to the one now pending in the House.

WOMAN'S STATEMENT REGARDING HEB MENTAL CONDITION NOT SUSTAINED.

Judge Valliant Passes Upon a Peculiar Case—Five Trials and Final Defeat for a Plaintiff—School Director Bosley Wins—In the Circuit Court.

Judge Valliant in Division No. 5 of the Cir cuit Court this morning gave judgment for the defendant in the case of Margaret Cutter vs. Sarah J. Zollinger. This was a suit to recover possession of a lot in block 962, fronting 25 feet on Carr street. Mrs. Cutter sold this lot to Mrs. Zollinger on Sept. 24, 1889, for $2,-625. In her suit brought to the March term 1890, she claimed that the deed was made when she was sick, in a feeble condition of mind so as to be unable to either understand or transact any business, whatever. She claimed that the property was reasonably worth $3,500. The case was tried last December and taken under advisement. Judge Valliant said to-day:

"The evidence in this case by no means proves that the plaintiff was insane when she made the deed in question. The testimony of Dr. Bremer is chiefly relied on by the plaintiff 's counsel as establishing ber insanity. Dr. Bremer testified that when he saw here which week actor. her, which was about three weeks after the deed was made, she was afflicted with 'melancholla, with delusions, and it would imply that she was suffering from ideas of persecution.' He also stated, in response to persecution." He also stated, in response to a question founded on a hypothesis, that she was subject to recurrent attacks of insanity, but on cross-examidation would not venture an opinion founded on what ne observed or knew of the case as to what her state of mind was at the date of deed, as he had not seen her then. The fact that she was afflicted with an attack of melancholis with felusions with an attack of melancholia with delusion would not in law incapacitate her from the transaction of business not shown to be connected with those delusions. Counsel for the plaintiff insists that the law is that where one plaintiff insists that the law is that where one is proven to be insane the burden of proving that a deed was executed in a lucid interval devolves on him who claims under such deed. That is the law where the condition of the person in question is shown to be unqualifiedly an insane person. But in the case at bar the fact that the plaintiff enjoyed lucid intervals appeared from the evidence introduced by the plaintiff hersell. Indeed, giving the testimony of Dr. Bremer the strongest interpretation to favor the plaintiff's theory, it only goes to show that she was subject to recurgoes to show that she was subject to recur-rent attacks of insanity, with years inter-vening between those attacks. That does not establish her status as an insane person in the sense in which the rule insane person in the sense in which the rule of law contemplates.

"Dr. Bremer, in answer to a question of plaintiff's counsel, stated that at the time he examined the plaintiff she was not capable of transacting any kind of business. The learned witness thus spoke from the standpointof a physician. To the mind of a physician the welfare of a patient is his highest object, and all his utterances have that aim. His habit of mind gives form to his speech. If the patient's mental condition is such as to attempt to transact business would impair her health or retard her recovery, then any physician. retard her recovery, then any physician, spaking from a physician's standpoint, would be apt to say that she was incapable of transacting business. And this is the sense in which we must understand this witness to have we must understand this witness to have spoken. Because if he meant to say that his patient did not have mental capacity to make a deed he would be giving a legal and not a medical opinion. It is for the physician to tell us what the mental condition of his patient is. It is for the law to tell us whether in that condition the person is capable of transacting business.

'Taking the contract in itself there is nothing unwarrantable or unreasonable about it. The sale was made with the advice of a reputable real estate agent and with the assistance and in the presence of friends. When the time came, according to the contract, for her to move out of the house and give it up to the purchaser she regretted that she had sold it, and the giving up of her home where she had lived home where she had lived so long probably assisted to bring on the attack of melancholla under which Dr. Bremer found her suffering. be no stability in business.' "The Horse-Lot Case."

Charles W. Pickett, a tailor, since decease suit in the Circuit June term, 1886, against the People's Railway Co. for damages. He owned a lot fronting 3 deet on Second Carondelet avenue with 13 depth along McNulty avenue, on which hi depth along McNulty avenue, on which his home was built. Adjoining his home was the horse-lot of the railway company. He charged that this horse lot was allowed to become so filthy that he was unable to carry on his business there and his family became sick. He laid his damages at $5,000. On the first trial of the cause in January, 1887, the jury was unable to agree. In November, 1888, the cause was again tried with a like result. The cause was again tried with a fike result. The cause was partially tried in March, 1890, but owing to the fact that the plaintiff became ill while on the witness stand and fainted there was a third mistrial. The plaintiff died a few days later and the suit was revived in the name of the admistrator of the estate. In November last year the cause was tried for the fourth time, and the result was a verdict for the plaintiff with $200 damages. In December a motion for a new trial was sus tained and the judgment was set aside. Saturday evening the fifth trial of the caus led in Division No. 3 of the Cir cuit Court, the jury returning a verdict for the defendant. This puts the burden of the costs of the litigation, covering a period of four years and eight months upon the estate

THE BOULEVARD BILL.

THE B. P. I. ANXIOUS TO SECURE ITS PASSAGE BY THE LEGISLATURE.

Street Commissioner Murphy's Interes ing Letter to the Mayor on the Subjec The Proposed System and What It Would Probably Cost.

The city officials, and especially the mem bers of the Board of Public Improvement, are to pass the boulevard bill which has gone through the Senate and is now in the hands of the House committee.

The bill is one which imposes on no one, and is so constructed that nothing can be done unless the Board and the Assembly here agree on the streets to be set aside for boulevard purposes. All that is asked of the Legislature is that they grant the city the right to declare certain streets boulevards, and make its own arrangements accordingly.

The act the city wants passed is as follows:
Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Misseuri as follows:

Be it enacted by the Genéral Assembly of the State of Missouri, as follows:

Sec. 1. All cities in Missouri having a population of 300,000 inhabitants or more, or which shall hereafter reach said population, are hereby authorized and empowered to establish, by ordinance, boulevards and provide for maintaining the same; and may regulate the traffic thereon, and may exclude heavy driving thereon or any kind of vehicle therefrom, and may exclude the institution and maintenance of any business avocation on the property fronting on such boulevard, and may establish a builling line to which all buildings and structures thereon shall conform, and may convert existing streets into boulevards, and may levy a special tax on property line to which all buildings and structures thereon shall conform, and may convert existing streets into boulevards, and may levy a special tax on property fronting on said boulevards, to light, sweep and maintain the same, and the grass and trees thereon or any part of said expenditures, and for the above purposes on any of them may lay out a district or districts in which said special tax shall be levied, and provide for the assessment of said special tax by assessing the same in favor of the city on the adjoining property fronting or bordering on the boulevards where such lighting, sweeping and maintenance is to be had in the proportion that the linear feet of each lot fronting or bordering on the boulevard bears to the total number of linear feet of all property chargeable with the special tax aforesaid in the district so established, and may accept dedications of boulevards with conditions thereto attached, which shall be binding and conclusive; provided, however, that no ordinance on the above subjects, or any of them, shall be vailed unless recommended by the Board of Public Improvements of the city enacting the same.

Sec. 2. The special tax bills aforesaid shall be and Board of Public Improvements of the early.

Sec. 2. The special tax bills aforesaid shall be and become a lien on the property charged therewith from the date of their issue and shall be prima facie evidence of the liability of the property charged therewith to the extent and amount therein specified, and may be collected of the owner of the land in the name of and by the city, as any other claim in any court of competent jurisdiction with interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from the date of issue until paid. from the date of issue until paid

Sec. 3. The work of lighting, sweeping and main taining boulevards and the grass and trees thereon, or any part thereof, may be contracted annually, or for a term of years not exceeding ten, by the Board of Public Improvements of the city, at such time and under such terms and conditions as shall be provided by ordinance, to be recommended by said beard, and shall be paid for out of the city treasury, and the city treasury shall be reimbursed for such expenditures by the proceeds of the special tax bills aforesaid. City Counselor Bell said this morning: "I have received a letter from one of our repre-sentatives who tells me that some of those legislators there think the thing is too aris-tocratic, and that it is a rich man's measure ainieg boulevards and the grass and trees thereon, or tocratic, and that it is a rich man's measure and does not look to the welfare of the working man. Now that is all nonsense, becaus it is a well-known fact that every city in the United States has its own system of boule-vards, while St. Louis has only a few miles of street which can be so called. We will make all the arrangements after the bill is passed, and it is certain that nothing will be done which will not be a source of pride and profit to the whole city. We ask nothing from the State. The only thing we desire is the permission to conduct our own affairs to suit our own people."

Street Commissioner Murphy said: "We street Commissioner Murphy said: "We want those boulevards very much and before the bill went up to Jefferson City the board after a careful consideration of the subject laid out a plan of the streets which it thought would serve the purpose. The first object was to give a continuous drive which would not necessitate doubling back over the same street as is now necessary. With this street, as is now necessary. With this plan in view we set aside the following

'Loughboro avenue from the river west highway, and King's highway north as far as Florissant avenue and the cemeteries Florissant avenue east to Grand avenue, and Grand avenue all the way south to Carondelet Park. Park avenue from Lafayette Park west to Tower Grove avenue and Tower Grove avenue into Tower Grove Park. Pine street from Twelfth street to Grand and Lin dell avenue, from there to Forest Park.

'Forest Park boulevard was not put on the plan because it practically exists as a boule-

"Should it appear in later discussions be-tween the Assembly and the board that modi-fications of this plan are advisable it will be a simple matter to make them. The pro-rata assessments will not be high, and you will find that when this thing is fairly started that the property owners will be more then that the property owners will be more than willing to do their share toward maintaining the system."

''My letter to the Mayor on the subject explains the whole," continued Maj. Murphy.

The following is the letter, now in the hands

The following is the letter, now in the hands of Mayor Noonan:
In a conference held with you a few days since in reference to the bill recently introduced in the State Legislature establishing a system of boulevards in the cities of a certain class, you express a wish to have the views of this department regarding the location of this class of roadways in case the bill became a law. I have the honor to herewith present for your consideration a map of the city showing by red lines the streets that in my opinion should be designated and set aside for boulevard purposes. The plan is the result of much care on the part of my able assistant, Mr. Aug. Rauschenbach, who has also compiled the measurements and estimates given below. The system includes King's highway from Florissant avenue from Florissant avenue to the Mississippi River in Carondelet, Grand avenue from Florissant avenue from Mississippi avenue to Tower Grove avenue, Tower Grove avenue to Tower Grove avenue, Tower Grove avenue from Park avenue to Tower Grove avenue, Tower Grove avenue from Park avenue to Tower Grove avenue, Tower Grove avenue from Park avenue to Tower Grove avenue were included in the estimates. A glance at the map will show that in the pian proposed all portions of the city are considered. The reasons for adopting King's highway as the main boulevard are that it is legally opened for nearly its entire length 100 feet wide. The portion along the front of Forest Park is only 60 feet wide, but the open space fronting the avenue makes it practically a uniform width from Florissant avenue sant from Grand to Calvary.

son King's highway at railroad.... 150,000 the system is $900,000. There are subject to special the system is $900,000. There are subject to special taxatiop-for improvement purposes 118,800 front feet. This would be a cost of about $7.60 a front foot. As only a portion of this frontage is assessed high enough to bear the charter limit of 25 per cent, it would leave a large excess for the city to pay out of the municipal revenue, or to be paid voluntarily by the owners.

I estimate the amount at $450,000. It would cost the city $40.000 for grading and the cost of the bridge across the tracks, as before stated, would be $150,000.

There can be no doubt that the passage of a bill by the Assembly declaring King's highway a boulevard, and its consideration by the board would greatly en-hance the value of property from its northern to its southern terminus.

hance the value of property from its morner southern terminus.

I have not suggested the plan of creating a boulevard in a tax-paying district as I have been urged to do, because I doubt the correctness of the principle that dictates, or the wisdom of the public policy that tolerates, discrimination against a few for the benefit of the many. If the boulevard system is to be established it will be for the comfort and convenience of all. Very respectfully, Street Commissioner.

All of the members of the board have repeatedly expressed themselves as being in favor of the plan and intend doing all they can to help it along. In case there should be any necessity for it, a delegation may proba-bly go to Jefferson City to try and persuade the legislators to pass the bill.

Madden Says Slavin Can Whip the Big

Fellow in a Few Rounds-Subscribers to the Monmouth Park Stakes—Base Ball and Other Sports. John L. Sullivan appears to be going to the dogs by unlimited express, writes Macon. Hardly a day passes without the papers con-taining accounts of his drunken freaks, and his tour through the South is marked by a succession of rows and brawls. He seems to have become the absolute slave of strong drink, and all who know him are aware that when under the influence he is half crazy and wholly irresponsible. I much fear that the once "champion of champions" will soon be at the foot of the hill, an object of derision to his enemies. He has but few of his old-time friends left. One by one he has alienated them, and he is not making many new ones. Billy Madden, in speaking of him the other night, said: "He has had his day, but if he goes against another good man in the he will preve a mere mark for him. ik Slavin can stop him in a few rounds. good right hand swinger make a great mis-take. I saw him box with Charley Mitchell, who we all know is about as clever as they make them, and I tell you Slavin can hold his own with him or any one cless of far as skill goes. As a fighter I regard him as away above any man in the ring to-day. We are hearing a wonderful lot about Joe Goddard of Australia—how he bested Peter Jackson in an eight-round go and knocked Choyinski out in four; why Slavin licked him in a minute and a half. Take my word for it, you'll meet a wonder when you see him." good right hand swinger make a great mis Billy tells me that Slavin has a very strong mind of his own and that he will not permit any "manager" to handle him at will. He has a habit of taking the bit in his teeth and that he has little regard for his supposed di rector's feelings or abilities. For this reason Rilly does not think that Charley Mitchell is really Frank's manager. I have no doubt that they have made an arrangement to travel together as sparring partners, and this week for getting into a drunken row with a lot of outsiders at the Don, an English sporting house. I know that when anything of that kind occurs, nine times out of ten it is the fighters' fault. Ordinary people are no prone to pick quarrels with pugilists. It is not safe to do so. Therefore, when you hear may who gets full and then presumes upon his fistic skill and strength and makes himoxious. You never hear of Jim Corbett, Dominick McCaffrey, Jack McAuliffe or Billy Edwards getting into such rows. Before dropping this subject I may remark that in

NEW YORK, March 2.—The Monmouth Park Stakes for the season of 1891 closed to-day. It is highly probably that there will be a considerable failing off in the number of subscriptions as compared with those of the previous season. August Belmont's long list will be missed, and nobody has as yet arisen to take the place of W. L. Scott. It is not certain what will become of Senator Hearst's tain what will become of Senator Hearst's stable, though it was intimated that his son will undoubtedly subscribe to the Monmouth Stakes. Many kind things, says the Tribune, are said of the patient Senator, who was a great favorite among men of all grades and distinctions. He was the most amiable of companionions, the most considerate of friends. As an employer he was forbearing and indulgent to a remarkable degree. None will testify to that with more readiness than his former trainer. Mat more readiness than his former trainer. Matt Allen, whose suit against him is still pending.
Allen was with him for a long time and learned to know him well. It was allen who said of him recently that he was perhaps the best judge of the value of mining property that California had ever known, and that to that California had ever known, and that to his thorough knowledge and wast experience in such matters, J. B. Haggin and Marcus Daly owed much of their great fortunes. There has been a strong public impression that the three millionaires were partners in racing, and Mr. Haggin's denial, published cently, was the first positive evidence to TRACK TALK. The distance of the Kentucky Derby run at Louisville will not be reduced from one and a half miles to one and a quarter, as has been stated. President M. They have finally determined to permit it to remain as it Weights have been assigned for the Strauss Handicap to be run at Lexington, Ky. Riley at 122 pounds is the top weight, Proctor Knott coming next at 121 pounds, and Prince Fonso third at 119. Glockner is in at 117, Sportsman at 115, Robespierre at 114, Heron at 112, and Protection, Dollikins, Catalpa and Mora at 110 each. The lowest weights are Laura Agnes and Fannie S., 90 each.

THE KENTUCKT DERBY.

News from Latonia is to the effect that John McGinty, who has already trained two winners of the Kentucky Derby, says he will win that event again this year with the win that event again this year with the slashing son of outcast, Georgetown, who, it is said, has improved beyond the fondest expectations, says the Cincinnati Enquirer. "He looks and moves like a whirlwind," said one of his admirers to the writer a few days since, 'and if Palestine, Kingman or any other of the cracks do succeed in beating him at Churchill Downs, mark my word it will be another Spokane and Proctor Knott finish, with Georgetown in at the death.' Sister da is also regarded highly by McGinty, and he recently expressed his opinion that he thought as a pair no stable would be able to boast of having a better colt and filly on average performance when the present racing season was once started in.

BASE BALL The St. Louis Browns' active President, Chris Von der Ahe, is constantly on the "go' to help the interests of the American Association. This morning he returned from Cincinnait, where the Committee on Constitution and By-laws of the Association has been in and By-laws of the Association has been in session for the past two or three days. The committee having the work of revision of the Association constitution consisted of Chris Von der Ahe, Louis Kramer, President of the Association, Frank Elliott of Philadelphia and Edwin Sutherland of Washington. They relieved the deposed Thurman of the books, papers and funds in his possession belonging to the Association, and finished their labors at the Burnet House, Cincinnati.

"The American Association is in far better shape to-day in every way than it has been for years," said Mr. Von der Ahe, referring to the present condition of affairs. "We have an independent organization with first-class cities, a great many of the greatest ball-players in the land in our ranks, and with men identified with the clubs who cannot and will not be worked by the League, by threat, or any process for its extermination which may spring from that source. Such men as Prince of Boston, Johnson of Cincinnati, You der Horst of Baltimore, Bennett of Washington, Parsons of Louisville.

the Wagner brothers of Philadelphia and Lazarus of Columbus are not in the business to be tricked out of several properties, rights and interests by the Spalding League people and their combination of hirelings. We propose to fight legitimately for our rights, and will resist any attack upon our ranks in the contract-jumping business. Have you noticed that the majority of the contract jumpers have been secured by the Pittsburg Club? Well, this is a little scheme of Spalding's. He and Reach of Philadelphia own the Pittsburg Club. Spalding sees that he is losing a good many of his best players, and the only way he can get the Association players is to 'work' them by underhand methods; so he gets his agent to sign them for Chicago and Pittsburg. But his little game will be blocked. Not an Association man under contract who has jumped will play with any other than the club with which he signs. A few injunction suits will down the League HE IS NO LONGER THE FIGHTER HE few injunction suits will down the League enthusiasm on contract-jumping, and they'll be as glad to drop their stolen goods as any common thief who steals and is run down. Of course an effort is made to condone the of-fense of encouraging and abetting contract-jumping, because it is the League—that au gust body that points with pride to its hon orable' record. But with right-minded and thinking people who want to see the nationa game flourish the League's course is univer sally condemned. What is the Association doing in the matter of players?"

"St. Louis, Boston, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Washington and Baltimore have about completed their clubs. Louisville and Columbus will have strong teams despite the efforts to the strong teams. forts to steal a few of their players by getting them to jump their contracts. Boston will have a magnificent club with such players as Hardie Richardson, Tom Brown, Pitchers Madden, and Darby O'Brien, Radbourne, Dan Brouthers, Joyce, Stricker, Radford, Hugh Duffy, Chas. Farrell, and several others equally well-known."

"Is it a fact then that Boston has signed Duffy and Farrell?"

"Yes, they are both under contract with President Chas. Prince of the Boston club, and they will both play there."

"What about Cincinnati?"

"I'm glad you asked me about Al Johnson's club. It will be a deler and the club. It will be a daisy and the great and only $10,000 beaty, Mike Kelly, will, have charge of it. I was with Al Johnson Saturday last when he won back Bug Holliday and gave him a check for $366 back salary and signed him to play in the Check post of the check part of the check pa that they have made an arrangement to travel together as sparring partners, and that Frank will defer to him on account of Charley's knowledge of this country, but in all other things he will have as much to do with the management and the bossing as Mitchell." Charley and Frank, by the way, seem to have taken a leaf out of sullivan's book, for the cable has just informed us that both were arrested early this week for getting into a drunken row with a lot of outsiders at the Don, an English sporting house. I know that when anything him." I know that when anything him."

'The team I will give you just as Johnson published it in the Cincinnati papers; it is right except as to Hoy: Mike Kelly and Harrington for catchers, Rhines, Mullane. Duryea and Dolan for pitchers; Reilly, first base; McPhee, second base; Tebeau, third base; Latham, short-stop; with Holiday, Hoy and Delehanty in the outfield. I visited John-son's ball park yesterday, and the grass on the diamond was as green as you generally see it in summer. It was in splendid shape, high and dry. I also looked for the old Bank street ball park, but couldn't find it. It's out of sight—completely submerged under 10 feet puglist to assault an ordinary man as it is for an ordinary man to strike a woman.

Mr. Von Der Ahe stated that the Association affairs were in first-class shape, and that when the season opened early in April the whole organization would be found ready for what promises to be a big season.

CONTRACT JUMPING.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says: "Let the magates put the screws to this contract-break ing business. It is dishonorable. Base-ball has always stood out as the purest of American sports. It has been free from trickery and decett, Keep it so. The magnates should turn the hose on the double-dealers. Wash 'em out. Keep the sport in that enviable position enjoyed by the wife of Casar-above suspicion. It would be better for all concerned if the fight could be avoided, but, i nothing else will do you, then fight in a manly way. Let there be no hair polling, gouging, ackbiting, hitting below the belt or othe oul blows. Make it a straight, up-and-up fight with an even chance for all concerne and may the best man win. A contract jumper is a miserable individual, but the per Judging from present indications the meet-ing of the Board of Managers of the A. A. U. on March 18 will be a very stormy one, says the New York Herald. There is just now on the athletic horizon in this vicinity a storm of discontent which threatens to break out in a most aggravated form at the coming meeting. It is heavily charged with accusations and ill feeling.

The cause of the trouble, it is said, is due to a little scene that happened at the meeting of the manager last week, when President Harry McMillan took Treasurer Howard Perry of the Columbia Athletic Club of Wash-ington to task for certain matters in connection with his accounts. Mr. McMillan's op-ject in doing this, it is said, was to hurt Mr. Perry's chances of being elected to any posi-tion of prominence in the Atlantic Association of the A. A. U. Be this as it may, Mr. Mc-Millan was defeated, and this with the assistance of Secretary James E. Sullivan.

Now it is said Mr. McMillan is on the warpath. He is trying to prevent Sullivan from being re-elected to the secretaryship. Mr. McMillan is, also pulling to have himself elected President and a man of his choice elected President and a man of his choice Secretary.

A well known athlete said to me yesterday:

"McMillan has held the presidency of the union since it was formed, and I think it about time that he stepped down and out, unless the position was made for him. Why the Presidency of the A. A. U. should remain in Philadelphia is a question many prominent officials of local clubs cannot understand, and they propose to give the West where Sme. officials of local clubs cannot understand, and they propose to give the West, where amateur athletics are just now flourishing, a chance to have the honor. F. K. Stearns of the Detroit A. C. is being boomed for the presidency. At the organization of the Atlantic Association of the A. A. U. McMillan took the trouble to see that his 'rooters' were in the majority and elected only such persons to offices as were to his liking. A. R. Parsons of the Vesper Boat Club, which is really an annex of the Schuylkill Navy A. C., was elected president, while Howard Perry, the representative of the Columbia A. C., did not get a place on the Association Board, not get a place on the Association Board, but was only elected an A. A. U. delegate. The constitution says that four delegates must be elected to the A. A. U., but Mr. Mc-Millan only saw fit to elect two.

HUNTING AND FISHING.

The Gilham Hunting & Fishing Club has organized and incorporated under the laws of lilinois. It has leased Gilham's Lake, Grove Lake, Round Pound and surrounding country of over 2,000 acres, in Madison County, Ill., and has appointed Wm. Lewis of that place private watchman. The property has been overrun with fishermen and huntsmen, but hereafter all parties not members of the club or guests of members will be kept off the premises. T. F. Burke is President, A. H. Rawifings Vice-President, C. E. Wise Secretary, and Wm. Dooley Treasurer of the club.

SKATING.

The citizens of Newburg, N. Y., on Feb. It celebrated Joe Donoghue's 20th birthday by presenting him with a magnificent gold and diamond medal emblematical of the world's skating championship, which the young athlete has won, says the New York Hereld.
The medal. which was designed and made by Robert Stoil of this city, is of sixteen carat gold and weighs four ounces troy. The head consists of an eagle with spread wings, from tip to tip of which extends a streamer. Attached to the beak of the eagle is a bar, and HUNTING AND FISHING.

The body of the medal is suspended from the head by four chains. On it is the inscrip-tion, "Champion of the World," and an ex-cellent and lifelike figure of Joe cut in colored crystal. Below this is the name, J. F Donoghue, set with sixty-five diamonds.

The medal is the result of a subscription by citizens of Joe's town, who are proud of his remarkable victories over the best skaters of the world. The medal has been on exhibition for some time at the Manhattan Athletic INFLUENCES THAT ARE RAISING ST. LOUIS TO THIS RANK.

An Encouraging Outlook for Farmers and Shippers for the Coming Season—In-crease in Acreage Tributary to St. Louis—Extension of the Foreign Trade.

From present indications the present year will show a larger shipment of corn from St.

Louis than any of its predecessors. Last year's receipts were unusually heavy, amounting to over 45,000,000 bushels, but unless all signs fail this year's receipts will be far greater; certainly they will be far greater in proportion to the crop, for not only has the territory tributary to th's city increased to a very considerable degree, but also the channels through which the crop is distributed from this point have been enlarged. Inquiry among receivers and shippers has developed the fact that there will be a much larger territory tribu-tary to this city than has ever before been

From Northern Texas in particular the amount of land planted in corn will be almost doubled. This change is traceable to two causes, the change from wheat to corn that has taken place in many sections, and the breaking up for agriculture of ground that has hitherto been used for grazing. The Texas wheat growers, at least those of the northern portion of the State, find themselves less and less able to compete with Kansas and Missouri farmers, and are changing their crop. The low price of cattle and the increased irrigation facilities have combined to cause many pas-CHANGING OF CROPS. have combined to cause many pastures to be turned into cornfields, and while at this season of the year it is impossible to form an accurate estimate of the corn crop, enough is known to justify the prediction that in the country the natural market of which is St. Louis the acreage under corn will be increased nearly 20 per inder corn will be increased nearly 20 pe THE FOREIGN DEMAND.

This, however, is by no means the most encouraging feature of the situation. If the corn crop were increased, without a corresponding increase in the demand, the benefit would be problematical. There is now no doubt that the demand will be increased, and that the increase will grow from year to year, Ever since the close of the Paris Exposition the demand for corn from Europe has been steadily growing, and the prospects are that the shipments abroad when the coming crop is harvested will be far larger than ever before, wine shippers estimating that they will be doubled. St. Louis and New Orleans have joined hands in bringing about this re-sult, as the greater part of the foreign shipnents will be made by barge from St. Loui to New Orleans and thence by ship to Liver-pool, Havre, Hamburg and Bremerhafen. Several agents have been sent abroad to ex-plain the advantages of corn as a food product, and the results of their efforts have been seen in the great increase of orders received from England, France and Germany and in the numerous letters of inquiry received from those who are thinking of handling corn. A shipper of this city said: "There has been a strange indifference to the value of Indian corn as a food manifested by the propers classes of Europe. manifested by the poorer classes of Europe, to whom corn meal would be a great boon. They will pay more for a very inferior four than the price of excellent corn meal, and all because a prejudice exists that corn is fit for quadrupeds only. But the American corn booths at the Paris Exposition attracted a degree of attention that is not appreciated in this country, the hot corn bread and corn cakes that were supplied free were greatly liked, and our American corn bread was for the first time tairly introduced." INCREASED SHIPMENTS. "The consequence has been that the orders from abroad have steadily and rapidly increased. Corn meal has been added to the bill of fare of hundreds of European restanzants, and the demand from millers and flour matthews. marchants has very greatly increased. Where cheapness of food is of as much importance as it is abroad, corn, once intro-duced, cannot fail to become popular.

Of this increase in foreign traffic St. Louis is certain to obtain the lion's share, owing to its situation. It is nearer the great corn belt than any other large city, and possesses the immense advantage of having direct and cheap water communication with a seaport On corn shipped by rail to New York the cost of transportation frequently exceeds by 100 of transportation frequently exceeds by 100 per cent the cost of the corn itself, but by barge to New Orleans the expense is comparatively trifling. The New Orleans shippers have been hard at work and have secured gone to Lebanon Springs.

Miss Laura Welch of 4012 Morgan street will leave Thursday for Chicago and Milwauthe close of the year will show St. Louis to be in the lead of all cities in the country as corn receiving point.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.

Cardinal Gibbons Lectures on the Subject

Cardinal Gibbons Lectures on the Subject to a Large Audience.

Baltimore, Md., March 2.—Cardinal Gibbons lectured yesterday on "Marriage and Divorce" to an immense audience. He first spoke of the relation between man and wife, the closest two human beings can reach, and of the inseparable tie which binds them to each other. He then told of the protection which the church and the Popes throw around this sacred partnership, and how rulers of nations were denied decrees of divorce even when separations would have been for the good of the nation. He dwelt on the position of women in the civilized world of to-day, she being the queen of her household and the equal or man in every way, and closed with a prayer that they would never enter the polit-cal arena, and thus unsex themselves, or by so doing remove from their brow the queenly aureole which fancy paints there.

RUSSELL BROWN DEAD.

The Murderer of Mrs. Gen. Dorris Commits Suicide at Montreal. YORK, March 2.- Special disp

from Montreal on last Thursday gave a sensa-tional account of the suicide of a young man who called himself Joseph Edward Lake. The dispatches said that Lake had been the bla sheep of a prominent St. Louis family a had always lead a wild and dissipated li that he had arrived in Montreal three year ago and soon afterward rented handsom apartments, which he occupied with a former inmate of a Montreal disreputable house. He spent money freely his relatives allowing him an income of $500 a month. One night while with some been proposed to committee. with some boon companions he committed larceny: He was arrested, convicted and sent to the penitentiary. The influence of his relatives secured his release. He returned to his mistress, and last week ended his life with a dose of bromide of potassium in the house where his mistress had formerly lived. It was learned later, that the young man was. It was learned later that the young man was Russell Brown, son of Capt. Joseph A. Brown, a member of the Missouri State Democratic Committee and one of the most prominent men in St. Louis County. Russell Brown was the principal in one of the most horrible trag dies in the criminal annals of St. Louis, I ecles in the criminal annais of St. Louis. In December, 1882, he strangled his grandmother Mrs. Gen. Dorris, to death. Gen. Dorris had amassed an immense fortune in the slav trade, and had erected one of the finest man sions in the suburbs of St. Louis. In this resi dence, in the studros of St. Louis. In this residence, in the latter part of 1882, lived his widow and her two daughters, one of them the mother of Russell Brown, who had been divorced from her husband. One evening young Brown and a boon companion named Pat McGlew were taking in the salcons around two who Brown suggested that they go and town when Brown suggested that they go out to his grandmother's and 'raise a stake.'

They went out to the manson, we work was a welcome visitor. He left McGlew outside, went in and talked a few moments to his mother, and then passed on upstairs where his grandmother lay sleeping. The supposition has always been that he entered the old been that he entered the old lady's room to steal her jewelry, which he had done before and pawned. She awoke, tried to prevent him and was strangled to death. No alarm was given. The family did everything to everything to prevent the facts from being made public, but it got out and Brown was arrested, allowed to plead guilty to man-slaughter and sent to the penitentiary for ten years. Three years ago he escaped and went to Canada, where his relatives have since kept him, supplying him liberally with money. His mania for strong drink led him from bad to worse, and he closed his career of crime and debauchery with self-destruc-

Dispute About Lake Front Park Settled by an Ordinance.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 2 .- An ordinance ha been prepared for introduction in the City Council, which, it is hoped, will settle the fight over Lake Front Park, in which the Government, this State, the city, the Illinois Central Railroad Co., the World's Fair and the abutting property owners are more or less interested. The ordinance provides for the removal of the Illinois Central tracks to a point 1,206 feet east of Michigan avenue and the erection of a wall between them and the park, high enough to conceal the cars. This will not obstruck the view of the lake from the park. The parkway is to be extended to wenty-second street and South Park avenue connecting with it there, it to be converted nto a boulevard, running to Jackson Park, where the Fair is to be held.
